This State of Local Manufacturing Breakfast provides a unique opportunity for you to hear from industry leaders on how you can benefit from engaging with the sector and be part of a more equitable and diverse local economy.

- Presentation of the key findings of MFG:SJ's newly released study of the current state and future of San Jose's industrial land use
- Spotlight on the burgeoning food and beverage sector in San Jose
- Doing business with Next Generation manufacturers: what is San Jose's play in the advanced manufacturing space and what will it take for the professional service, finance/capital and real estate sectors to engage?

We invite you to sponsor the inaugural San Jose State of Local Manufacturing Breakfast, a celebration of local manufacturing.
